

Create an At-Home Library Your Child Will Love

1

Find out your child's interests.

3

Work with your child to set up a space in your home to store the books. If you don't have an extra shelf, a shoebox or cereal box works great for storing books. Have your child personalize the box with her name and pictures or drawings of her interests and favorite characters.

4

Set up a comfortable space for your child to enjoy reading the books in her library.

2

Take a trip to the local library, book store, or your own book collection to gather several books and magazines about your child's topics of interest.

5

Replenish the library with new titles often. Have your child help choose the books.
