

Exploring Nonfiction

EXPOSITORY NONFICTION

Expository nonfiction teaches the reader all about a topic. It includes factual information, descriptions, and visuals to help the reader learn about the topic. Many expository books are written about science and social studies topics.

BIOGRAPHY & AUTOBIOGRAPHY

Biographies and autobiographies tell the true story of an individual's life. These genres are often written like a story, but the characters and events are real. They are typically written about inspirational people and experiences that teach important lessons.